

Yesterday I was outside and played with Mia and Leah. At the morning I did my schoolwork, that wasn't very funny. After doing schoolwork I watched TV, but not long only (for) 20 minutes. Then I was outside. In the evening I read a book.

Today Mia woke me up, I didn't eat something g for breakfast. My schoolwork I do ~~has I do~~ after I have woken up and have said to all 'Good morning'. I am not outside today. In the evening I read the same book like yesterday and I ~~don~~ can't sleep because the air in my room is really warm.

Tomorrow I think Maybe I will wake up me by g my sister again. Maybe I eat something but I don't know. I hope tomorrow I will be outside. But I will do my homework first. Maybe In the evening I will be reading my book.?!
(oder: will read / am going to read)

Der „Present“-Abschnitt könnte auch so lauten:

Today Mia wakes me up, I don't eat anything for breakfast. I do my schoolwork after I have woken up and have said ,Good morning'. I'm not outside today. In the evening I read the same book like yesterday and I can't sleep because the air in my room is really warm.
